The Client may request a variation of the terms of the agreement in order to secure a higher degree of protection. It is the responsibility of the client, considered to be a professional client, to ask for a higher level of protection when it deems it is unable to properly assess or manage the risks involved. These clients will not, however, be presumed to possess market knowledge and experience comparable to that of the categories listed above. Any such waiver of the protection afforded by the standard conduct of business regime will be considered to be valid only if an adequate assessment of the expertise, experience and knowledge of the client, undertaken by the Company, gives reasonable assurance, in light of the nature of the transactions or services recommended, that the client is capable of making investment decisions and understanding the risks involved.

The fitness test applied to managers and directors of entities licensed under Directives of the European Union in the financial field, may be regarded as an example of the assessment of expertise and knowledge. 2. The Company will give them a clear written warning of the protections and investor compensation rights they may lose;
3. They must state in written form, in a separate document from the contract, that they are aware of the consequences of losing such protections.

Before deciding to accept any request for waiver, the Company must be required to take all reasonable steps to ensure that the client requesting to be treated as a professional client meets the relevant requirements stated above.

However, if clients have already been categorized as professionals under parameters and procedures similar to those referred to above, it is not intended that their relationships with the Company shall be affected by any new rules adopted pursuant the Law and relevant applicable legislation.

The Company implements appropriate written internal policies and procedures to categorize clients. Professional clients are responsible for keeping the Company informed about any change, which could affect their current categorization. Should the Company become aware however that the client no longer fulfils the initial conditions, which made him eligible for a professional treatment, the Company shall take appropriate action.

- A «Professional Client» requesting to be categorized as “Retail Client». In that case the Client will be afforded a higher level of protection.
- An «Eligible Counterparty» requesting to be categorized either as a «Professional Client» or «Retail Client». In that case the Client seeks to obtain a higher level of protection.

The Company will notify the Client if and when it agrees to categorize the Client as requested.

The Company reserves the right to decline any of the above requests for different categorization.

Important Notice: Professional Clients and Eligible Counterparties are responsible for keeping the Company informed of any change which could affect their categorization as such. If the Company becomes aware that a Professional Client or Eligible Counterparty no longer fulfils the initial conditions that made him eligible for a Professional Client/Eligible Counterparty treatment, it may take appropriate action, including re-categorizing the Client as a Professional Client or a Retail Client.

4. PROTECTION RIGHTS

4.1 Retail Client

When the Company treats you as a Retail Client, you will be entitled to the following protections as required by the law:

1. The Company will give to the Retail Client more information/disclosures in regard to the services provided by the Company, its costs, fees and charges and the safeguarding of Client financial instruments and client funds.
2. The Company will assess whether the Retail Client has knowledge and experience in the investment field relevant to the specific type of product, service offered or demanded in order to be able to assess whether the investment service or product envisaged is appropriate for the Client. In the case the Company considers, on the basis of the information received by the Client that the product or service is not appropriate to a Retail Client, it shall warn the Client accordingly.
3. The Company when executing orders, will take all reasonable steps to achieve the “best execution” for the Client orders. Best execution is the process by which the Company seeks to obtain the best possible result when executing client orders. The Company has obligation to ensure that all sufficient steps are taken into account when executing client orders, including price, costs, speed, likelihood of execution and settlement size and nature upon client characteristics.
4. Retail clients are entitled to compensation under the Investor Compensation Fund. Please refer to the Investor Compensation Fund here.

4.2 Professional Clients

When the Company treats you as a Professional Client, you will not be entitled to the same protections as if you were categorized as a Retail Client.

- The Company shall be entitled to assume that a Professional Client has the relevant knowledge and experience in order to understand the risks involved in relation to the particular investment services or transactions, or types of transaction or product, for which the Client is categorized as a Professional Client. Consequently, the Company should not generally need to obtain additional information from the Client for the assessment of appropriateness for the products and services for which he/she has been classified as a Professional Client.

- When executing your orders, we owe you a duty of best execution. For retail clients we must prioritize overall prices and cost of a transaction when giving best execution. As a professional client, we may prioritize other factors in giving best execution, such as speed and likelihood of execution if we determine they are equally or more important than over all price. In practice, we will not change the way we execute your orders.
- Professional Clients are not entitled to a compensation under the Investor Compensation Fund. For more information please refer to the Investor Compensation Fund. Also Professional Clients are not entitled to Negative Balance Protection (the “NBP”).

4.3 Eligible Counterparties

Where the Company treats the Client as an Eligible Counterparty, the Client will be entitled to fewer protections under the Law than it would be entitled to as a Retail Client or Professional Client. In particular and non-exhaustively:

- The Company is not required to assess the appropriateness or suitability of a product or service that it provides to Client but can assume that the Client has the expertise to choose the most appropriate product or service for itself and that he/she has the ability to bear losses.
- The Investors Compensation Fund does not cover Eligible Counterparties.
- The Company must act honestly, fairly and professionally and communicate in a way which is fair, clear and not misleading, taking into account the nature of the eligible counterparty and of its business.
- The Company, when dealing with Eligible Counterparties, is not restricted to make any arrangement by way of remuneration, sales targets or otherwise that could provide an incentive to its staff to recommend a particular financial instrument when the investment firm could offer a different financial instrument which would better meet that client’s needs.

However, eligible counterparties will be entitled to the same reporting obligations as they apply to Retail and Professional.
